Residential / Kitchen: New Construction

Laura Burton Interiors

Interior designer Laura Burton, owner of Laura Burton Interiors, says long-standing relationships with clients drive her success. Such connections are formed at the onset of each project, getting to know clients and picturing the vision through their eyes. “We first take a giant step back to imagine the vibe and personality of the project,” she says. “Then, we check back throughout to ensure every decision is contributing to that end.” Passionate about function and efficiency, Burton’s work is characterized by open and airy spaces, an abundance of natural light and minimal visual clutter.

“The key component of our style is clean simplicity, which translates stylistically into many architectural genres.”

Inspiration behind the award-winning project:

Project name: City View House

Design inspiration: The kitchen was designed intentionally and minimally with a focus on the dramatic architecture and views of downtown Austin

Noteworthy manufacturers/artists/designers used in the design: This project was a fabulous team effort between LBI, Vanguard Studio and Enve Builders. All of the trade partners contributed to a high-quality result

The project in 3 words: Minimal, grand, warm
